New York State Documents are general works of New York State legislative, executive, and judicial agencies, and government organizations. Documents may contain commission hearings and reports, session laws, agency and commission annual reports, audits, investigations, proceedings, decisions and orders, hearings, budget summaries, histories, directories, journals, catalogs, and census statistics. Official publications provide records of an agency’s laws, opinions, organization, and activities.

NYS Documents are sorted according to NYS Document Classification System call numbers (NYSDOC). NYS Document numbers consist of an agency symbol keyword designator, an agency symbol numeric designator, publication type code, date/title identifier code, and a time-accession number (e.g. BUD 350-4 EXEBN 82-70629).

The University’s collection of microfilm contains annual reports of state agencies, newsletters, legislative activities and bills, brochures, and statistical reports. These publications provide an official record of an agency’s activities.

Since 1947, the New York State Library has published a comprehensive list of all official publications of New York State. The Checklist of Official Publications of the State of New York is available at the University Library [Microform, v. 1, 1968- ] and online through the New York State Library for 1989-.
